The Teacher's Poem That Is Guaranteed To Make Every Parent ...

One was a teacher, the tools he used. Were books, music, and art. One a parent with a guiding hand. And a gentle loving heart. Day after day, the teacher toiled, With a touch that was deft and sure. While the parent labored by his side, And polished and smoothed it o'er. And when at last, their work was done, They were proud of what they had wrought.

Unity—A Poem about Teachers Working with Parents

Inspirational / Humorous Stories Parent / Teacher Poem. By Ray A. Lingenfelter I dreamed I stood in a studio And watched two sculptors there, The clay they used was a young child's mind And they fashioned it with care. One was a teacher; the tools she used were books and music and art; One was a parent with a guiding hand and a gentle loving heart. And when at last their work was done They were proud of what they had wrought For the things they had worked into the child Could never be sold ...

On Being a Teacher (Emma Brown) A careful teacher I want to be A little girl follows me I do not dare to go astray For fear she'll go the selfsame way. I cannot escape her eyes; Whatever she sees me do, she tries; Like me she says she's going to be The little girl who follows me. She thinks that I am good and fine Believes in every word of mine;

Teacher Poems

20) Teachers have a halo around them. They always look so serene. You too have been an angel for me. Without you, I wonder where I would have been. Every word that came out of your mouth. Made me smart and wise. It is because I had a teacher like you. That life turned out to be so nice. Thank you. 21) You set me free. When the world bogged me down
