From these dichotomies derive the fundamentals of the Jewish way in death and mourning: Determining the occurrence of death. Death is when the soul no longer animates the body, not when the body cannot express the soul. (See End-of-Life Issues) What is done—and not done—with the body.

~~Introduction: How Jews Approach Death—Death & Mourning~~

When death occurs, there are many Jewish traditions, customs and rituals that individuals use as a guide and follow relating to the caring and preparation of the body pre-burial, the actual burial and service at the cemetery, along with the weeklong mourning period (or " shiva ") that follows. Most notably, Judaism's structured period of mourning, which contains various stages for grieving, is considered extremely helpful, because each stage focuses on honoring and commemorating those who ...
